Chapter 1 General

1-1. Purpose

This regulation prescribes NHNG policies and procedures for processing State military awards and decorations for current personnel in the NHNG, non-NHNG personnel, and civilians.

1-2. References

Required and related publications and prescribed and referenced forms are listed in appendix A.

1-3. Explanation of abbreviations and terms

Abbreviations and terms used in this regulation are explained in the glossary.

1-4. Responsibilities

a. Anyone who knows of an act, accomplishment, or period of service believed to warrant a decoration may submit a formal award recommendation through command channels. Approval authorities will evaluate and approve/disapprove recommendations based upon the individual's length and character of service, or specific accomplishment.

b. Although an individual may be decorated for meritorious achievement, generally for acts of short duration, he/she may later receive awards for meritorious service that include the same time period, provided the achievement previously recognized is not mentioned.

c. Revoke decoration(s) if facts later determined would have prevented original approval of the award. The awarding authority must seek legal advice from the judge advocate whenever there is doubt as to the propriety of an award action. The awarding authority revokes an award when the basis for the award no longer exists.

d. Each commander in the chain of command recommends approval or disapproval and forwards through chain of command.

e. Custodians of personnel records will file permanent documents as appropriate.

Chapter 2 Authority

a. TAGNH is the approving and disapproving authority of the following Awards and Decorations: NHNG Commendation Medal (NHNGCOM), NHNG Distinguished Service Medal (NHNGDSM), NHNG Soldier/Airman of the Year Ribbon (NHNGS/AYR), NHNG Honor Guard Service Ribbon (NHNGHGSR), NHNG State Active Service Ribbon (NHNGSASR), NHNG Honorary Recruiting Ribbon (NHNGHRR), NHNG Counterdrug Task Force Ribbon (NHNGCDTFR), and the Governor's Twenty Tab for Combat Marksmanship

b. TAGNH has delegated authority to unit commanders for approval or disapproval of the NHNG Service Ribbon (NHNGSVCR).

Chapter 3 Order of Precedence and Restrictions

3-1. Order of precedence

Awards will be worn in the following order of precedence listed in descending order:

NHNGCOM
NHNGS/AYR

NOTE: Awards from other states will be worn immediately after comparable NHNG awards. In doubtful cases, send a copy to TAGNH for determination of precedence.

3-2. Restrictions

State awards may only be worn while in State status under Title 32 U.S. Code (IDT, AT, ADT, ADSW, AGR, and Military Technician), including attendance at active component service schools.

Chapter 4 Supply

4-1. Requisition

Commanders will request a stock of certificates, medals, ribbons, and devices through appropriate personnel office channels for which they have approval authority.

4-2. Replacement

Submit separate recommendations for each individual. Indicate second and subsequent awards on the memorandum and proposed citation.

c. Each intermediate commander indicates approval or disapproval of each recommendation, indicating reason for a recommended disapproval. Process at each level of command as expeditiously as possible.

d. TAGNH has final approval or disapproval authority.

g. The medal is a bronze disk. On the front is the Old Man of the Mountain and the initials "NHNG" superimposed on a lighted torch. On the back is the traditional Minute Man bounded on each side by missiles. Inscribed around the perimeter is, "N.H. NATIONAL GUARD COMMENDATION MEDAL". It is suspended from a ribbon of gold background with two blue stripes in the center representing the State colors, and three red stripes on each end representing courage.

5-2. NHNG Soldier/Airman of the Year Ribbon

a. TAGNH Permanent Order 287-001 (14Oct03), established this award to provide tangible evidence of recognition for selection by the NHARNG as the Soldier of the Year and Non-Commissioned Officer (NCO) of the Year, and selection by the NHANG as the Airman of the Year, NCO of the Year and Senior NCO of the Year.

In the case of receiving the award from both branches, recipients will wear the ribbon with the band that signifies their first award of the ribbon to the left when viewing the ribbon.

5-3. NHNG Honorary Recruiting Ribbon

a. Established by TAGNH Permanent Order Number 347-001 (13Dec01) to recognize all members of the NHNG, with the exception of production recruiters, who have excelled in the field of recruiting. The NHNG member must secure three enlistments or appointments within the course of the member's career regardless of whether the accession was in the NHARNG or NHANG. The Recruiting and Retention (R&R) Superintendent/R&R Manager submits requests to the unit level commander and indicates names and dates of enlistment/appointment when members of his/her command meet the minimum requirement of three accessions. TAGNH has final approval or disapproval authority. Requirement is the same for subsequent awards. The memorandum indicates if it is the first, second, third, etc. award. Submit a copy of the memorandum to the personnel records section for filing in the member's personnel records.

b. The ribbon has a white background, and has three vertical red bars on the right and three vertical red bars on the left with four blue stars centered on the white background. These colors carry out the patriotic theme of red, white, and blue of our State and Nation.

- a. The Adjutant General
- b. Commander, NHANG and Commander, NHARNG
- c. 157th ARW Command and Wing Command CMSgt
- d. Commanders of 05 level and above commands/groups
- e. State Command CMSgt
- f. State CSM
- g. CSMs of 06 level commands
- h. State Command Chief Warrant Officer (CWO)

9-2. Appropriated Funds (APF)

a. AR 600-8-22 provides that APF may be used to purchase coins under the following circumstances:

- (1) The recipients are military members, units, or Department of the Army (DA) or Department of the Air Force (DAF) civilians.

(2) The coin is presented "for excellence in accomplishments and competitions which clearly contribute to the increased effectiveness or efficiency of the military unit" (for example, weapons competition, military aerial competition, and athletic competitions).

b. National Guard Federal Acquisition Regulation states:

(1) The purchase of coin medallions can be done using O&M APF for the ANG, follow AFI 65-601.

(2) The purchase of coin medallions with O&M (APF) for the ARNG is authorized in AR 600-8-22. APF can be used to purchase the item to be awarded. MACOM commanders, State Adjutants General, and principal HQDA officials may authorize their subordinate commanders to use APF as required.

c. NGB All States Log number P04-0001 "Use of Federal Funds to Purchase Military Coins" states:

(1) Federal APF can only be used as part of a formal awards program, as a way of saying "Job Well Done." The award should be made on a one-time basis where the achievement is unique and clearly contributes to increased effectiveness.

(2) Conversely, Federal funds may not be used to purchase coins given as gifts, as mementos, or souvenirs, or as tokens of appreciation. A coin that is given to say "thank you," to build esprit de corps, or instill unit pride, may not be purchased with Federal APF. Coins traded or given as collector's items also cannot be funded with Federal funds. In addition, coins purchased with Federal funds cannot be given to members of the local community or non-federal government agencies and individuals as tokens of goodwill, or to encourage or reward cooperation with the military. Lastly, coins purchased with Federal funds may not be given to recognize the efforts of volunteers.

(3) Caution. To protect the office for which coins are purchased, do not purchase coin medallions inscribed with individual's name. Coins are not intended as calling cards. Individual coins can be inscribed for specific awards.

(4) Safekeeping of coins is the responsibility of the award official.

d. APF-purchased coins cannot be given to private organizations or to Soldiers as an award for participating in a private organization activity. However, a private organization may purchase coins to be distributed by the commander and his subordinates to military members (AR 1-101).

9-3. Nonappropriated Funds (NAF):

a. NAF may be used to purchase and award coins to "recognize civilian and military excellence in athletic or non-athletic competition and proficiency in recreational programs or to acknowledge unusual accomplishment supporting special events (see AR 215-1).

b. NAF may also be used to purchase awards honoring volunteers or gratuitous service personnel at volunteer recognition ceremonies (see AR 215-1). A coin can be classified as an "award."

9-4. Types of coins. Those authorized in para 9-1 may purchase only one coin design for their unit during the tenure of their command. All unit coins, regardless of level of command, will bear an inscription identifying it as an award, such as "For Excellence" or "In Recognition of Outstanding Performance." Coins will not be personalized with the name of the presenter.

9-5. Limitation on amount of coin purchases. To the extent unit funds are available, units must adhere to the following limitations/formula in using APF to purchase coins each fiscal year:

a. Commanders of 05 level and above commands – Authorized strength of his/her command x 25% x $5.00. This level commanders may also purchase an additional 50 coins per fiscal year to use for awards to appropriate recipients who are not members of their commands.

b. The State CSM, State Command CMSgt, and State Command CWO – Authorized strength x 10% x $5.00. They may also purchase an additional 50 coins per fiscal year to use for awards to appropriate recipients who are not members of their commands.

c. CSMs of 06 level commands

- Authorized strength of his/her command x 10% x $5.00.

d. Purchase of Unit Coins. Government Purchase Card (GPC) may be used to purchase unit coins, provided commanders maintain accountability of coin expenditures not to exceed authorized purchase amount. To the extent possible, however, commanders are encouraged to pool their purchases with other units (through the Contracting Office, if necessary) to take maximum advantage of discounts offered for larger purchases.

9-6. Presentation of coins

a. Authority. Commanders may authorize a subordinate commander or sergeant major to make a presentation on his or her behalf. Directorates do not have authority to purchase and present unit coins; however, they may recommend Soldiers/Airmen and Department of the Army (DA)/Department of the Air Force (DAF) civilians within their organizations to receive a unit coin from the AG, State CSM, State Command CMSgt, State Command CWO, or other appropriate commander via memorandum.

b. Unit Coin Recipients. Commanders may only award unit coins to Soldiers, DA/DAF civilian employees, and DA/DAF agencies to recognize excellence in a competition/activity, or to recognize a unique accomplishment that furthers the efficiency and effectiveness of the mission (IAW AR 600-8-22 and AR 672-20). Commanders cannot present unit coins to individuals for merely performing their regularly assigned duties or give coins to contract employees, volunteers, or non-Federal government agencies. Commanders are also prohibited from presenting unit coins purchased with APF to their peers, to their superiors, as a contribution to a personal coin collection, or for going-away gifts.

Chapter 10

Award ceremonies

Timely presentation is essential. Hold the presentation ceremony at the earliest possible date after approval of the award. Recognize individuals in unit formation, conference, or in any other appropriate ceremony. Whenever practical, and when time permits, commanders should publicize the event and invite the awardee's family and friends to the ceremony. They should also ensure photographic coverage to the maximum extent possible.
